MESSAGE FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

I want to take the opportunity today to share with you some plans for the distribution of Holy Communion at Mass that will be implemented in the near future.

You may recall in 2020, during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, we ceased the distribution of Holy Communion under both forms (i.e., in the form of Bread and in the form of Wine from the Cup) and began offering only in the form of Bread. We also changed the pattern of the communion procession to ensure easier "social distancing" of those coming up to receive communion. Although the pandemic is over (COVID is still around), we have not – until now – reversed these practices.

I am pleased to inform you that, effective immediately, we will no longer distribute Holy Communion from the far outside aisles of the church and instead, Communion will be distributed from the interior side aisles, in addition to the center aisle. The priest and one other communion minister will distribute from the center aisle, and one communion minister will distribute from the aisle that leads to the Ambo, and another communion minister will distribute from the aisle that leads to the cantor's stand. In addition to this, in the future we will gradually reintroduce the distribution of the Precious Blood at some Masses. Communion ministers are being trained to perform this ministry, which has not been practiced at St. Andrew since 2020. The plan is to offer communion under both forms to the First Communicants at the First Holy Communion Mass on May 4. If we have enough trained communion ministers, I hope to offer communion under both forms regularly at the 9:15 a.m. Mass on Sundays, beginning after Easter. Bishop Fernandes gave permission for parishioners to reinstate Communion from the Cup many months ago, but I (along with other St. Andrew clergy) was reluctant to do so because the spread of COVID and other illnesses are still a danger. I know the priests and deacons and communion ministers continue to have concerns because they are the ones who must consume what remains in the cup after everyone else has received Communion.

Prior to reinstating the distribution of the Precious Blood, I am obligated to offer some catechesis by way of clarification. It is important to understand that, when one receives Holy Communion, one receives the whole Christ – Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity – whether one receives under the form of Bread, under the form of Wine, or under both forms. Only the celebrating or concelebrating priests are obliged to receive both forms. For everyone else, it is optional. I am also obliged to remind you that it is never permitted for a lay person to receive the Host, and then intinct (or "dip") the Host into the Precious Blood and then consume it. Intinction is only done by a priest, and there are no plans to distribute communion under both forms using the intinction method here at St. Andrew. Instead, the Cup will be distributed to those who choose to take part (it is optional and each individual's choice). The Chalice should be taken firmly in hand from the minister, the communicant takes a small sip and returns the Chalice to the minister, taking the utmost care to avoid any accidental spillage, which would be a serious profanation of the Sacrament.

Please feel free to share with me your thoughts about this. I wish you a prayerful and holy Lenten season.

Your Pastor,

Msgr. Stephan Moloney

"Do This in Remembrance of Me" الجب A Step-By-Step Walk Through the Mass

Fr. Luke Spannagel

Part 17: The Second Reading

On Sundays and Solemnities, after the Responsorial Psalm, we always hear the proclamation of the Second Reading, which is taken from the New Testament books (other than the Gospels) and is generally continuous from one week to the next. While St. Paul is the most prolific of the New Testament writers, we also have readings from St. John, St. Peter, St. James, and others. Although the sentences in these readings are sometimes long and a little awkward (because they were originally written in Greek, not English), they are packed with great wisdom and directives for Christian living. As Edward Sri writes, "Though often selected independently of the First Reading and the Gospel, these New Testament writings reflect on the ministry of Jesus Christ and his saving work and the meaning it has for our lives. They also draw out the practical applications of our life in Christ and exhort us evermore to 'put on Christ' and turn away from sin" (A Biblical Walk Through the Mass, p. 64).

How to Live in Christ Every Day

As we look through the books of the New Testament, we see how each writer was addressing a person or particular community with their own strengths and weaknesses. The writer knew his audience and, through the guidance of the Holy Spirit, taught these people what God asks of us and how to live in Christ every day. These readings call us to faithfulness and generosity in loving one another. Sometimes we hear joyful words of truth: "Beloved, see what love the Father has bestowed on us that we may be called the children of God. Yet so we are" (1 Jn 3:1). We also hear words of consolation: "We always pray for you" (2 Thes 1:11). At other times, we will hear exhortations to holiness, such as, "Do you not know that you are a temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwells in you?" (1 Cor 3:16) and "do not use this freedom as an opportunity for the flesh" (Gal 5:13).

These writings are beneficial to us because St. Paul and the other writers were all helping early Christians understand how to live in an anti-Christian world (recall that Christianity was illegal in the Roman Empire during the first centuries of the Church). The writers provided answers to difficult questions, gave explanations for why we do certain things and not others, and exhorted the people to holiness and fidelity even in the midst of daily struggles and persecutions.

How to Live as a Christian in the World

A couple of very common questions today are: "How do I really live as a Christian in the world? How do I make what I do on Sunday last all through the week?" Thanks to these New Testament Readings, we have answers to these questions. Look through the readings for any Sunday, and what do you see? "Be imitators of me, as I am of Christ" (1 Cor 11:1); "For you are all one in Christ Jesus" (Gal 3:28); "For he is our peace" (Eph 2:14); "Seek what is above" (Col 3:1); "that you may not grow weary and lose heart" (Heb 12:3); "Be doers of the word and not hearers only" (Jas 1:19); "Compete well for the faith" (1 Tim 6:12); "Children, let us love...in deed and truth" (1 Jn 3:18); "He will wipe every tear from their eyes" (Rev 21:4); "Always be ready to give an explanation...for your hope" (1 Pet 3:15). Does it feel like we could keep going and going? We really could! At every Sunday Mass and on Solemnities, the Second Reading is packed with wisdom from the saints to help us become saints, too!

For Reflection:

- Invite family members, friends, or fellow parishioners to study a New Testament text (other than the Gospels) together. Find a resource or mentor to guide your prayerful study. Commit to meeting regularly, and experience how these texts addressed to the early Christian individuals and communities can strengthen your community life today.
- 2. Consider the significance of letter-writing in the early years of the Church's development. Which person(s) in your life could use some encouragement or exhortation by way of a letter? Take the time to reach out through this personal communication.
- 3. Popes and bishops still write letters to the faithful. Find the most recent letter your bishop has written, and prayerfully read his message. If you are moved to respond, go ahead!
