

HABEMUS PAPAM POPE LEO XIV

MAY 8, 2025

Breathe in me, O Holy Spirit,
That my thoughts may all be holy.

Act in me, O Holy Spirit,
That my work, too, may be holy.

Draw my heart, O Holy Spirit,
That I love but what is holy.

Strengthen me, O Holy Spirit,
To defend all that is holy.

Guard me, then, O Holy Spirit,
That I always may be holy.

MESSAGE FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

Last week, I included in this space a brief statement about the election of Pope Leo XIV, in which I simply expressed joy that we have a pope, and encouraged prayer for his ministry. It was just by luck and a little help from the bulletin editor that I was able to include that message in last week's bulletin, since by Thursday afternoon, the bulletin had already gone to press with a different message. So this week, I would like to say a little bit more. I can assure you, I have been asked at least 100 times in the last week, "So what do you think of our new pope?"

First of all, I was very surprised that an American was elected as pope. I did not consider that to be a possibility before the conclave began. I was therefore astonished and delighted by the announcement that Cardinal Prevost was chosen as pope and had taken the name Leo XIV. I was also very impressed by his calm demeanor, clear voice, his thoughtful and measured statements. I appreciated his opening words to the crowds in St. Peter's Square, "Peace be with all of you." I have also enjoyed hearing the pope speaking on occasion in my language with a Midwestern accent! I was given hope by Pope Leo's call for "no more war" (echoing the words of Pope Paul VI) and his commitment to social justice, especially for workers (like his namesake Leo XIII), and to continuing the legacy of Pope Francis, especially regarding the plight of migrants and refugees.

As I told our school students at Mass a couple of weeks ago (before the conclave), "When the next pope is elected, please remember that he was not simply elected by the cardinals, but also chosen and designated by the Holy Spirit who works through the conclave process to raise up a leader for the whole Church."

Finally, I would note that Pope Leo is 69 years old (as I am) and was ordained a priest in 1982 (as I was). He also studied Canon Law at the University of St. Thomas Aquinas in Rome, the "Angelicum" (as I did). So we have some things in common. I am full of hope and confidence in the future of the Church under his leadership.

Your Pastor,

Monsignor Stephan Moloney

The Mass

"Do This in Remembrance of Me"

A Step-By-Step Walk Through the Mass

Fr. Luke Spannagel

✚ Part 69: Being Properly Disposed ✚ to Receive Communion

"The Body of Christ." "Amen." As we continue our discussion of Holy Communion, we consider who is able to receive Communion. The Diocese of Peoria reminds us: "Holy Communion is for all who are properly disposed to receive him. To be properly disposed we must be Catholic, in a state of grace and have fasted one hour prior to the reception of Holy Communion" (A Study of the Mass, p. 19).

A Sign of Unity

Why Catholic? Reception of Holy Communion is the fullest sign of Christian unity. As we said previously, receiving Christ in the Eucharist binds us to him. Since there is one Christ, he draws us together as one. However, what if one person who believes Jesus is truly present receives Communion while another person who believes in only a symbolic presence receives? That would be a problem. That would be two people making an outward sign of unity which would not be true unity. This false unity would not respect the true presence of Jesus, as well as the unity he prayed for at the Last Supper. That is why reception of Holy Communion is first limited to those who believe that Christ is truly present: Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity. Since this is the Catholic belief, Catholics (as well as Orthodox and Eastern Catholic Churches which maintain valid sacraments and believe that Christ is truly present) are eligible to receive Communion. Also, limiting reception of Communion to Catholics protects the integrity of non-Catholics. When we receive Communion, we first hear: "The Body of Christ." We respond with "Amen," indicating that we do believe that Jesus' Body and Blood are truly present and we wish to receive him. For non-Catholics who don't believe the Body of Christ is really present, receiving Communion would contradict their beliefs. They would be saying "Amen" to a statement that they do not believe. So, not permitting them to receive Communion actually respects their beliefs.

Prepared to Receive

Why must we be in a state of grace to receive Communion? Simply put, because Jesus Christ in the Eucharist is God—all-perfect, all-holy, all-love. To receive him in a state of sin is an offense against his goodness. Charles Belmonte teaches, “We should never dare to receive the Eucharist in the state of mortal sin. To do so is to abuse sacrilegiously the mercy of God. Only a shallow and false love, based on mere sentimentality, can bring us to such a detestable course of action. This mistreatment of the sacrament is a grave offense against God. St. Paul’s warning on this issue is quite clear: ‘Anyone who eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily will be behaving unworthily toward the body and blood of the Lord. Everyone is to recollect himself before eating this bread and drinking this cup; because a person who eats and drinks without recognizing the body is eating and drinking his own condemnation’ (1 Cor 11:27-29). [...] Therefore, we cannot—and should not—receive our Lord with a soul dirtied by sin. If we realize we have a serious sin, even though we may seem to be contrite, we cannot go and receive the Holy Eucharist without previous sacramental confession” (Understanding the Mass, pp. 182-3).

Along these lines, Belmonte notes that St. Pope John Paul II taught, “The two sacraments of Reconciliation and the Eucharist remain closely linked. Without a continually renewed conversion and the reception of the sacramental grace of forgiveness, participation in the Eucharist would not reach its full redemptive efficacy... It is not only that Penance leads to the Eucharist, but that the Eucharist also leads to Penance. For when we realize who it is that we receive in Eucharistic Communion, there springs up almost spontaneously a sense of unworthiness, together with sorrow for our own sins and an interior need for purification” (Understanding the Mass, p. 184; John Paul II, Letter of Holy Thursday [1986], 8; DC, 7). Of course, we know we are unworthy to receive such an amazing gift, but we are obligated to do our best to be as prepared as we can be. That’s why regularly making use of the Sacrament of Reconciliation and striving to be in a state of grace is so important.

Hungry for God

Why fast for an hour before Communion? When we don’t eat, we become hungry. When we eat a lot, even if it is our favorite food, we don’t want more. Fasting is an age-old way of growing in hunger, in this case for the living God. Our hunger reminds us that we yearn to be filled up, that we yearn to have our hunger satisfied. This works for the body, but it also works for the soul. As we “clear out” room in our hearts through fasting, we realize that the empty space should be filled by God. As St. Augustine once famously said, the only one who really fills that hunger is God (“Our hearts are restless until they rest in Thee”). Fasting for an hour helps ensure that we are better focused on God for our nourishment and prepared to receive him in Holy Communion. Fasting before the Mass generally covers food and non-necessary drinks such as alcohol, soda, etc. Water is allowed, as well as medicines. For those who are seriously ill (hospital, nursing home, homebound) and for those who care for them, the rule of fasting does not apply. For example, a person in the hospital who is eating lunch when the priest comes is allowed to receive Communion. The same would be true for a nurse who just finished her lunch break when the priest arrives. Having reviewed being properly disposed to receive Communion, next time we’ll review the official guidelines for receiving Communion. These guidelines continue to emphasize our belief in the true presence of Christ in the Eucharist and provide guidance for people of various backgrounds who might be present at Mass.

For Reflection:

1. Review the ways you prepare for significant events in your daily or weekly routine. Heighten your awareness of the purpose of fasting before receiving Holy Communion by making intentional choices about how you spend that time before Mass.
2. Pray with St. Paul’s words to the Corinthians in 1 Corinthians 11:17-34. Consider what steps you can take to be more properly disposed to receive the gift of Holy Communion.
